RE: APR Design® For Recyclability Recognition

Dear Ms. Hensley:

The Association of Plastic Recyclers (APR), is pleased to recognize Mactac, Spinnaker, Label Supply, and Lintec for their white and clear BOPP film with Pressure Sensitive Hot Melt CHILL AT adhesive and CHILL AT FDA adhesive as meeting or exceeding the voluntary requirements for APR Design® for Recyclability Recognition. These innovations were evaluated using most stringent, industry accepted criteria that encompass a wide range of design features affecting plastics recycling.

A Review Committee, appointed per the APR Recognition Operating Procedures, has reviewed your submission and concluded the data were correctly obtained and were completely presented to show the product submitted meets or exceeds the strictest guidance criteria of the Critical Guidance Recognition pathway.

The APR would like to extend our appreciation for placing a high priority on recyclability in designing your product. Ensuring that products are designed for recycling leads to less waste, more efficient use of limited natural resources, and increased supply of high-quality post-consumer recycled content.

APR Design® for Recyclability Recognition is an engineering assessment of the technical compatibility of either a packaging component, assembly of components, or a complete package with today's plastics recycling processes. Recognition of an item does not qualify the item to be described or marketed as recyclable. APR's complete Definition of Recyclability can be found HERE (<https://plasticsrecycling.org/recycling-definitions>). Additional critical aspects of the package, beyond technical compatibility, must be considered when making recyclability claims to the public and marketing a product. These may include consumer access to recycling, specific container design features, and the consideration whether the container is commonly accepted by the recycling industry to be sorted correctly into a marketable bale. We strongly encourage Mactac, Spinnaker, Label Supply, and Lintec to be sure to market their label innovation in a manner that would not cause the public to perceive that this Recognition applies to look-alike films or to believe collection is happening when it is not.

Yours truly,
